Annual Report 2012

For the period ending December 31, 2012.

Naper Settlement and the Naperville Heritage Society

Our mission, vision and values (revised in 2011)

The Mission of Naper Settlement
"Naper Settlement creates community by connecting visitors to Naperville's history through engaging, unique experiences."

NAPER SETTLEMENT

The Mission of the Naperville Heritage Society
"With a commitment to the community and a focus on the future, the mission of the Naperville Heritage Society is to collect, document, preserve and support the history of Naperville, Illinois past and present. The Naperville Heritage Society values stewardship, preservation, education, and community and public trust."

Naperville Heritage Society

A Message from the Chairman of the Board

Dear Friends,

As 2012 dawned, Naper Settlement was ready to open its doors and share the excitement of its new look. The red brick permeable paver roadways, rain gardens and environmentally sustainable features like cisterns and a rain barrel were in place for visitors to discover. Our roadways are not only functional and beautiful, but they also have an educational component. Signs located throughout the grounds explain how the permeable pavers work; what a rain garden does; and where the cisterns are located. There's even a hand pump, so visitors can pump water to maintain the gardens. Our theme for 2012 was "Celebrating the American Spirit" and our programming and exhibits focused on all-American favorites like baseball, hot dogs and apple pie, a fun and delicious combination.

To thank our community for their support over the past 43 years, we offered free regular admission for Naperville residents, which will continue into 2013. We want Naper Settlement to be the heart of the community, so we rolled out a new admission and membership plan with the start of the summer season. Our new enhanced membership plan includes all the special events sponsored by Naper Settlement, so individuals and families could enjoy the three-weekend Naper Nights Concert Series and our much-loved annual events like Civil War Days, Oktoberfest and All Hallows Eve.

In April, we received reaccreditation from the American Alliance of Museums. All the hard work of the past 10 year since our last accreditation had come to fruition and we "wowed" the peer site reviewers with our accomplishments that included the new roadways, the new 22,000-square-foot Collections Care and Storage Facility that houses over 50,000 artifacts, and our renewed commitment to historical research.

This annual report shares the highlights and accomplishments of the past year with you, our supporters of Naper Settlement and the Naperville Heritage Society. While Dorothy might have followed the yellow brick road to Oz, we are following the red brick pathways to our future, thanks to your donations of time, talent and treasure.

Yours in preservation,

Michael Krol

Highlights of 2012

Reaccrediation

Naper Settlement achieved reaccreditation by the American Alliance of Museums (AAM), which is the highest national recognition afforded the nation's museums. Naper Settlement was initially accredited in 2002. All museums must undergo a re-accreditation review at least every 10 years to maintain accredited status. AAM accreditation brings national recognition to Naper Settlement for its commitment to excellence, accountability, high professional standards and continued institutional improvement. Of the nation's estimated 17,500 museums, 778 are currently accredited. Naper Settlement is one of only 25 museums accredited in Illinois, the only accredited museum in DuPage County and the state's only accredited outdoor history museum.

The focus is on food with a new exhibit and interpretations

Visitors were invited to become part of a new exhibit at Naper Settlement titled "Food for Thought." The exhibit invited interaction with more hands-on activities to get people thinking about food in a museum setting. The walls were covered with chalkboard paint so visitors shared their thoughts on the topic of the day, whether it was bacon or their favorite food. A checkered picnic blanket, woven basket and other picnic items invited families to have an impromptu pretend picnic, and then share their photo on Naper Settlement's Facebook page. The exhibit also took visitors out of the gallery and onto the grounds on a scavenger hunt to search for food-related items in the historic buildings.

The new interpretative focus centered on food was highlighted in five buildings – the Log House, the Murray House, the Blacksmith Shop, the Halfway House and the Martin Mitchell Mansion. The theme, "Food connects us through shared community, traditions and work," was introduced to enhance the visitor experience through hands-on activities, programming, community partnerships and collecting artifacts for the museum's holdings. Naper Settlement continues to seek memorabilia that supports the museum's food-themed interpretation, both for the historic buildings represented at the museum, as well as for preserving Naperville's contemporary food history.

Grants & Awards

- Through a National Endowment for the Arts: Art Works grant, Naper Settlement developed a walking tour that explored how public art enriches a community. "Footsteps – A Guided Tour of Century Walk Art" explored 10 of the extraordinary pieces of Century Walk public art interspersed throughout downtown Naperville's historic buildings and walkways. During the tour, a Naper Settlement museum educator described the history of each piece, the background of the artists and the inspiration behind the murals, mosaics, reliefs, mobiles and sculptures located within a half-mile walk of the museum.
- The Illinois State Historical Society gave Naper Settlement and the Naperville Heritage Society three awards: Superior Achievement Awards for the "On the Road 2011 Walking Tours" and the "On the Road 2011: Summer Guidebook" and a Certificate of Excellence for the exhibit, "North Central College: 150 Years – A Promising Start."
- The Conservation Foundation awarded the Naperville Heritage Society and Naper Settlement a Sustainable Development Award for Naper Settlement's Roadways and Stormwater Management Project in which 42,000 square feet of asphalt pathway and parking was replaced with environmentally-friendly permeable, interlocking concrete pavers. Other best management practices included eight rain gardens, seven infiltration zones, two cisterns, a bioswale and a rain barrel.
- The Illinois Association of Museums gave an Award of Superior Achievement to Naper Settlement for the "Permeable Paver Roadways & Stormwater Management Improvements" project and an Award of Excellence for the "Joseph Naper Homestead Interpretive Site" project. The Superior Achievement Award recognizes achievement that is a model for the profession and reaches a greater audience than is normally reached by the institution. The Award of Excellence recognizes work of excellent quality that uses available resources well, is creative, and meets professional standards.

New Events and Programs

Naper Nights

Naper Nights set the stage for three summer weekends in June, July and August of nonstop music featuring the best in local and national entertainment. Formerly known as Naperville Summer Nights, this new concert series was included in the new membership benefits.

Find Your Cause Volunteer Fair

Naper Settlement hosted the "Find Your Cause" Volunteer Fair in January with representatives from dozens of area not-for-profits.

Trivia Night

Naper Settlement hosted its first Trivia Night in March when Mary J. Doody of "All Things Trivia" conducted a trivia game made up of six rounds of questions.

An Earth Day Celebration

In celebration of the new environmentally sustainable features, Naper Settlement hosted its first Earth Day celebration in April. Visitor learned how the museum's new interior roads, constructed in 2011 using interlocking permeable pavers, helped improve the DuPage River watershed.

Under the Stars & Stripes Camp Out

This unique overnight camping experience included a catered dinner, two camping-related demonstrations by Recreational Equipment Inc. (REI) staff, geocaching, roasted marshmallows, storytelling and more. Special tours of the historic buildings were available before the museum opened on Saturday morning.

Vintage Base Ball Exhibition Game – The Chicago Salmon and The DuPage County Plowboys

Visitors relived the exciting and interesting history of the Grand Old Game and enjoyed the fast-paced action of bare knuckle base ball based on the original rules from 1858 during a vintage base ball game held in August.

Hot Dog History

Bob Schwartz, author of "Never Put Ketchup on a Hot Dog," and a Vienna Beef executive, shared the history of the hot dog from the Columbian Exposition World's Fair of 1893 to tales of memorable stands and the people who made the "dogs" and served them to generations of devoted customers.

Hometown Picnic

The Hometown Picnic was a big hit with visitors who enjoyed a day of games, including a cupcake walk, water balloon toss, watermelon seed spitting contest and picnicking on the grounds.

Firefighter Appreciation Day at Naper Settlement

Visitors were able to thank both active duty and retired firefighters during this special day while learning about Naperville's firefighting history. They tried on reproduction firefighting gear, saw firefighting artifacts from the museum collections and saw modern day equipment operate side-by-side with the historic 1874 Joe Naper pumper. A chili cook-off was held among firefighters with prizes awarded from the Dick Solomon Memorial Fund.

Chicago Victory Gardens: Yesterday and Tomorrow

Award-winning master gardener LaManda Joy gave a presentation on Chicago Victory Gardens then and now. Visitors also could tour Naper Settlement's own Victory Gardens near the Paw Paw Post Office.

Bus & Bakery Tour

On the first Bus & Bakery Tour, participants visited four iconic Chicagoland bakeries to learn their history and also brought home sweet treats.

Peggy Frank announces retirement

Peggy Frank, President & CEO of the Naperville Heritage Society and Naper Settlement, announced her retirement effective December 2012. Peggy was instrumental in leading and transforming the grassroots, volunteer-driven organization into an award-winning, professionally-run, nationally recognized museum. “For more than three decades, I have been privileged to work with dedicated staff, volunteers, community members, and the City of Naperville in building public awareness and appreciation for Naperville’s rich heritage and its architectural landmarks,” Peggy said. “As we crafted the museum’s vision for our town’s celebratory 200th milestone in 2031, I knew it would require new leaders to bring it all to fruition. It is the right time to step aside and let others take the lead and make it happen.” Her new title is President Emerita.

Community Partnerships

When Naperville Bank & Trust began restoring the historic former post office on Washington Street to include banking facilities and offices, in addition to retaining post office services, Naper Settlement staff advised them on the renovations. Naper Settlement staff also helped to relocate a famous Naperville mural to its former home. Chicago artist Rainey Bennett was commissioned by the government in 1941 to create a mural that depicted scenes and individuals of early Naperville to be displayed in the Naperville Post Office. The mural is named “George Martin’s Home Overlooking Old Naper Hill,” and includes recognizable figures in the mural such as city founder Joseph Naper, and early pioneers George Martin and Bailey Hobson. Today, it is located over the teller windows at the bank.

The Naperville Heritage Society helped the Naperville Woman’s Club achieve local landmark status for their clubhouse in 2011 and will continue to safeguard their club records for future researchers. Their annual juried Fine Art Fair, celebrated its 53rd year, returning to Naper Settlement in 2012 after a yearlong hiatus because of the roadways construction project.

North Central College partnered with Naper Settlement on an exhibit in Naper Settlement’s Heritage Gallery that explored the 150-year history of North Central College, titled “150 Years: A Promising Start.” The NCC Sesquicentennial video viewing area was available through December 31, 2012 and featured documentaries about the College that were developed by Naperville Community Television, Channel 17.

In Recognition

Naper Settlement is more than an accredited museum – it is a place where the stories and people of our past come alive.
Thank you to those who enable Naper Settlement to build new experiences, exhibits, facilities and programs that preserve Northern Illinois' view of the American Dream.

New Internship Program

Naper Settlement announced the John K. and Judith H. Powell Museum Studies Internship, a 16-week internship offering practical museum training experience to individuals interested in pursuing a career in the museum field. Thanks to the generosity of longtime Naperville Heritage Society member Judy Powell and her late husband, John, this internship position offers the opportunity to gain general knowledge and a broad understanding of how the curatorial and education departments function within the context of a major museum. This competitive internship will be offered between January 2013 and April 2013.

New Learning Playscape

A proposed addition to the grounds of Naper Settlement transforms Fort Payne into an outdoor learning laboratory for the museum's youngest visitors. The Fort Payne Learning Playscape, will be a 10,000-square-foot interactive play area with structures and learning tools that address the tactile, sensory and imaginative play needs of children, while promoting connections to the natural environment, local history and the community.
